

Hudsons Bay 250th. Birthday Decorations

In connection with the celebration of the 250th Anniversary of the Hudson's Bay Company the Macleod Store is featuring an elaborate display of attractive merchandise in all departments. The windows are decorated in the Company colors and crests; the floors of the windows are in a black and white tile effect, and the background is of purple with gold candelabra and panel designs, draped with festoons of wistaria sprays, making a very handsome and effective display.

The west window is devoted to furs, rich and elegant, for which the Company has always been justly noted, and which has always been the best and most important feature of the Bay's history.

The east window shows the more seasonable goods—beautiful silk and crepe de chene dresses and waists, combined with a display of handsome silks, some in floral effects, others in plain, rich colors of the newest and smartest shades.

The hardware windows are decorated in the same color scheme as those in the main building, and present a most attractive appearance, and in these windows is displayed a comprehensive assortment of household hardware, paints, varnishes, etc.

The interior decorations are along the same color scheme, wistaria and crest effect as in the windows, with effective drapings and an extraordinary merchandise display. In its entirety the interior presents vistas and nooks of substance beautified.

The window dressing and decorative work has been favorably commented upon and greatly admired by the public, and the entire display reflects great credit upon the management and staff.

The outside of the store has been gaily decorated with flags, shields and mottoes of the Company, with the H. B. C. house flag showing prominently on the corner flagstaff, making the general aspect of the Big Store both gay and artistic.

Development of Western Resources

From the latest report from Ottawa there is a firm conviction among western members of parliament that the government intends to take some immediate action in the line of developing of the natural resources in the west. It is believed that something will be started in this direction before the close of the coming summer.

Headed by those who have been pressing for such action, a delegation of some 45 supporters of the government waited on the government. The cabinet men present included Sir George Foster, acting prime minister; Hon. Arthur Meighen, H. A. Drayton and C. C. Ballentyne. It was urged that the government should immediately consider undertaking some policy whereby the mineral development of the country will be implemented by effective action on the ground, that this would be one of the possible methods of increasing the population, lessening the taxes, enhancing the value of property, and securing a market for agricultural products, providing employment where badly needed, furnishing freight for the great over-developed railways, making Canada commercially independent of the United States, and generally helping to give Canada its proper place among the advancing industrial nations of the world.

It was also strongly urged that there has sprung up throughout the entire country an insistent demand for the development of its natural resources. The government is understood to have replied that it was cognizant of the argument put forth, and that some definite announcement of policy could be expected before the close of the present session. Practically every province was represented at the conference.

Miss Davidson Talks to Girls

(Contributed)

The visit of Miss N. Davidson of the Religious Educational Council, to Macleod deserves more than passing mention.

In the afternoon in the Presbyterian Church Miss Davidson spoke to about thirty "teen" age girls on "The Whole of Their Life," taking as the basis of her remarks the motto of the Canadian Girls in Training "Jesus Increased in Wisdom, Stature, and in favor with God and Man." From this she outlined the intellectual, physical, spiritual and social sides of our religious life.

It was a pleasing and satisfactory sight to see Miss Kydd, a teacher of the High School, leading about twenty-five of her girl pupils to the meeting, thus giving the contradiction to the statement so often made throughout Alberta, that the teachers, though so well liked, make no real contribution to the life of the community.

The meeting resolved to organize a "Canadian Girls in Training Club," and a nominating committee was appointed for the purpose of selecting officers. Miss Kydd was selected as the leader of the Club.

The meeting in the evening was rather poorly attended. It was addressed especially to mothers of "teen" age girls and to girls' leaders. The weather was very uninviting.

Miss Davidson appeared to have all the necessary qualifications for the work in which she is engaged—youthful, attractive, educated and serious. She was one of the strongest speakers that has visited Macleod for many a day, and her theme is one of the most vital to Canadian life—the "teen" age girls, the coming mothers of our land.

They say life is made up of ideas, and Miss Davidson sure has ideas and is able to express them.

Value of C.P.R.

Lands

The annual report of the C. P. R. Company contains some very interesting items and facts that do not always meet the public eye. For instance there is the land department with nearly six million acres under its control having a value of $95,211,438. The total assets of the Company amount to $1,078,779,350, of which $548,458,756 comprises railway, rolling stock, equipment, and lake and river steamers, and $29,894,172 ocean and coastal steamers.

New construction is planned for several short branches in the west, and equipment costing approximately $13,000,000 will be secured, including three dining cars, forty-five sleeping cars, sixty-seven air dump cars, two thousand five hundred 60-ton box cars and five hundred refrigerator cars.

The total mileage of the C. P. R. is 14,006 miles; added to this there are 4227 of Minn., St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie line, and 625 miles of the Duluth South Shore & Atlantic line, making a grand total of 18,859 miles for the whole system.

E. L. Richardson, manager of the Calgary Exhibition has sent out an advance prize list covering the Dairy Products Section for which entries must be in by June 14th.

There are classes open to all—for creameries, for farmers, and for boys and girls. Farmers and others interested in this section should apply to Mr. Richardson for lists, at Victoria Park, Calgary.

Macleod Council in Session

The regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening in the Town Office.

Present: Mayor Fawcett; Councillors Muldoon, Gardiner, Thewlis, McNichol and Morris.

After the reading of minutes of the last meeting the Council heard Mr. J. W. McDonald, president of the Board of Trade, who interviewed them concerning the matter of the Tourist Road proposed to be built from a point in Montana to Banff. The mayor assured Mr. McDonald that the Council were willing to co-operate with the Board of Trade in seeing that the original plan of this road, which passed through Macleod, is adhered to, and in conjunction with the Board of Trade a letter would be drafted and sent to the other towns along the proposed route asking their co-operation. A letter will also be sent to Mr. McDonald.

As Alberta is concerned, and to Mr. Goodsell, in Montana, who is looking after the route in his own state.

Dr. Kirk presented his report as Medical Health Officer, for the month of April, giving the town a clear bill of health.

The next matter of business to come before the Council was the resignation of Chief Lawson, who asked to be relieved of his duties on May 10th next, as he had accepted a position as Chief of Police at Fernie. Mayor Fawcett, after reading the Chief's letter, said he was sorry to see Mr. Lawson go; he was sorry that the town was not in a financial position to make it worth while for him to stay.

The position of Chief of Police in a town of the size of Macleod was a very difficult one to fill, and Mr. Lawson had filled it tactfully and well, and while they were sorry to lose the services of Mr. Lawson, they were glad that he had received such high recommendations, and that he was obtaining so much better position than the Town of Macleod could offer. The remarks of the mayor were endorsed by each of the councillors, and the resignation accepted. Chief Lawson made a brief but appropriate reply, in which he stated that after listening to the good things the Council had said about him he found it very difficult to find words to express his feelings. During the ten years he had been in Macleod he had enjoyed the work, and wherever he went he would always have a warm spot in his heart for Macleod and the men he had worked with while here.

Until Chief Lawson's place can be filled the Council decided to take the matter up with Supt. Ryan, of the A. P. C., and make some arrangements for proper police protection for the town.

The report of Engineer Pearson upon the proposed new light and water schedules was handed in and read. The new scale provides for an average increase of ten per cent all round on light and water; it abolishes discounts for light, but still continues the five per cent discount for water. It also provides for a stricter supervision of the collection of accounts.

The report was referred to a joint committee comprised of the light and water committee and the finance committee to report at the next meeting.

Councillor Morris, as chairman of the finance committee, gave a report of the meeting held in Calgary with Mr. Vere Brown of the Bank of Commerce, and Mayor Fawcett, and Secretary-Treasurer Brown and members of the finance committee. Mr. Morris stated that Mr. Vere Brown went thoroughly into last year's financial statement and the present year's estimates, and he took the ground that the town should fix its taxes at such a rate as would meet all the town's requirements. The Mayor and finance committee adhered to the stand they took before the finance commission, that is they would not go in the matter of taxation beyond what they thought the town could stand. They were willing to go to that limit but not beyond it, that is the rate is likely to be around 65 mills. Mr. Foster Brown said that since their return from Calgary he had had a communication from Mr. Reikie, local manager of the Bank of Commerce and after a consultation with him the bank had cashed the town's checks.

The Mayor in announcing the policy of the finance committee said the council had made up its mind to get the town down to a solid financial basis and in the matter of taxation they were basing their levy upon buildings and property in the original townsite, and acting upon the advice of the finance commission. A by-law was submitted to the council and passed providing for the assessment of buildings and improvements for the purposes of taxation.

The account of Mr. J. S. Lambert who has been acting as assessor for the town was ordered paid, the Mayor remarking upon the thorough and business like way in which Mr. Lambert had done his work.

Chief Lawson Leaving Macleod

Citizens of Macleod will regret to hear that Chief of Police Lawson has resigned, and will be leaving the town immediately. He has accepted the office of Chief of Police for the town of Fernie, B. C., at a much larger salary than Macleod can afford to pay. While deeply regretting his departure, the chief's many friends are glad to hear of his promotion; they will be glad to know that his recommendations to Fernie were endorsed not only by his friends in Macleod, but by the highest police authorities in the province.

Chief Lawson has just completed his tenth year of service to the town of Macleod, and during all that time has filled what is admittedly a most difficult position, with tact, courtesy and good nature, at the same time never losing sight of the fact that law and order must be observed, and he will carry and heartiest good wishes of every citizen in Macleod.

Brotherhood Meeting

I. W. Williamson, of Toronto, who has been addressing large audiences throughout the west on the Brotherhood movement, will be in Macleod on Thursday, May 6th, and will address a mass meeting in the Town Hall. A hearty invitation is extended to all to be present and hear this gifted orator discuss this great movement, which is fast becoming world-wide.

Hospital Aid

The Hospital Aid held its regular monthly meeting in the Methodist Hall on Tuesday, April 27th. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the attendance was not as large as usual. The meeting decided that the society should tender for the refreshment booth at the summer fair. A committee was chosen to wait upon the Fair Board and see what arrangements could be made.

An afternoon tea was arranged for May 29th, at which donations of fruit, vegetables, etc., for the hospital will be received.

The society voted $200.00 to the Hospital Board for the alleviating of their financial difficulties at the present time.

Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Andrews were named the visiting committee for the month of May.

Bright Municipality

There was a small attendance at the meeting of Bright Municipality Council on Saturday afternoon last owing to the bad state of the roads. Not much business was done, but the subject of dead stock was brought up. It appears that there are quite a number of dead animals lying out, and if they are not buried immediately the owners are subject to a heavy fine. Besides every farmer should see that these animals are buried for the sake of his own health and the health of his neighbors.

Nolan Siding

It is reported that there is a scheme on foot to move this siding some distance further north into the district of Argyle. A good many farmers are interested in this proposed move and some have protested against it as it will cause great inconvenience to those farmers living in the immediate vicinity. It would be well if these farmers could get together and make a united protest if they want to retain the siding at its present location.

Every loyal Canadian should read the article entitled "In an Alien Community" in Maclean's Magazine for May 1st, written by a public school teacher who tells of her experience in an alien colony.

Results in Bay School Children's Competition

The following are the names of the successful Macleod competitors who have won certificates in the School Children's Competition held recently by the Hudson's Bay Company in connection with the celebration of its 250th Anniversary:

A complete list of Alberta winners will be published in next week's Times.

Shower For Mrs. Morrison

A shower and social gathering was given in the Presbyterian Church Rooms on Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. J. Morrison, who has recently come to Macleod. The shower was arranged by the Ladies' Aid of the Church and by the friends of Mrs. Morrison who knew her before she went to the Coast. Afternoon tea was served and Mrs. Morrison received several beautiful gifts in honor of her recent marriage.

Drilling for Gas At Monarch

There are two wells being sunk at Monarch by the Canadian Western Gas Company. One well is down 1775 feet and the drillers are making good progress in spite of bad weather. It is expected that the gas sands will be reached at 2500 feet, and now that the weather has turned milder much more rapid progress will be made. Another crew has started a second well. The derrick is up and the drillers will be ready to start work in a few days.

Mothers Day

Sunday, May 9th, is Mothers' Day throughout the North American continent. Services appropriate to the occasion will be held in all the churches and in the Salvation Army Hall. And by proclamation of Lieut.-Governor Brett it is also the provincial "Go-to-Sunday-School" day when special appeal is made to every person in the province to attend some Sunday School.

WEATHER IN 1917

Regarding the present late and wet spring, Mr. Hartford Wells, of Wellville, says that he has kept a record of the weather for the past seven years and that the spring of 1917 was the only one that was backward and wet as this one, and the summer turned out very dry.

In 1917 April 23 to 28 was rain and snow; May 1 was fine and warm, and seeding in general commenced; on May 4 it snowed from 1:30 p.m. to 8 o'clock the next morning; then from the 4th to the 16th of the month the weather was fine and warm and more of the wheat was put in during this spell of fine weather; on the 16th it rained and then continued fine until the 29th, when snow fell all night and half of the next day. On June 3rd and 4th there was a heavy frost, a quarter of an inch of ice forming during the night. The 7th and 8th were windy and hot, the thermometer registering 98 in the shade. This was followed by rain on the 9th, 10th and 11th. After this there was only one storm to speak of until well on in September—this storm was on the 7th of August, when one inch of rain fell.

Wheat that was well sown gave a good yield, but stubble sowing was almost a failure. Red Fife wheat was harvested on August 22nd, which yielded 30 bushels to the acre on breaking.

SAVE YOUR POTATOES

There is a great scarcity of potatoes, and they are hard to get, and it would seem advisable for farmers who have small stocks that will possibly only safeguard them for seed to quit eating them until they are certain of enough for planting. In some parts of Canada they are selling at 8c per pound, and according to a Spokane whole sale price list potatoes are selling there at 8 and 9 cents per lb.

CORRESPONDENCE COMMUNICATED

The editor of The Times is not responsible for opinions expressed or statements made under above heading; neither does he necessarily endorse or condemn such opinions or statements.

Macleod, May 1 '20

Dear Mr. Editor:—
I would be glad if you would spare me a little space in your valuable paper. Being prevented from expressing my opinion and presenting my complaint at the recent shareholders meeting of the U. F. A. Co-Operative Association on how the feed has been handled this winter, even after the President had announced the opportunity, I would like to say a few words through your paper.

First, I would like to say I certainly did not admire the way the meeting was broken up by several of those present, and I learned afterwards that there were others who had complaints and who wanted to have the questions aired, and who were watching for a chance to get on their feet and speak.

It is very well for those who have had the feed they ordered, and I might say, in some cases, some they had not ordered; and those who ordered feed after others and got it before them while those who ordered first went without—I say it is all very well for them to want to shelve the matter or shift the responsibility from one to the other so that in the end no one is responsible.

Right is right, and wrong is no man's right, and therefore, if there is a wrong it ought to be brought to light, and if there is no wrong it ought to be proven; for trying to smother things will not make things right and heal the ill-feeling which exists among many today. To my mind there has been too many cars of feed shipped to one party for the trouble to be all "accident."

I think when a man has a car of hay ordered and then found he did not need it he should have turned it over to the U. F. A. and let them distribute it to those who got their certificates back and were without hay, and not turn the car over to one individual. There are some who say a man has a right to do as he likes with his own hay—he has under certain conditions; but if we are going to have co-operation and equal rights for all in the community we have first got to have the principle working in the individual, or as Mrs. Nellie McClung put it in the G. G. Guide of April 7th, "No matter how perfect a system it will not work successfully unless the spirit of the people is right."

Unless this is cleared up, and cleared up right I see very little hope of the new company gaining the farmers' business. Unless this grievance is put right it will, like Sampson of old, pull the pillars from under the new structure and the business will fall about the heads of its patrons.

Some will say that that meeting was not the place to discuss this matter, but when the President gave the opportunity, and there were a good number of farmers present, and I doubt if the same number can be got together again until after the busy season is over, so I think it was a good time to discuss the question.

In closing I would like to say I am not doing this to try and hurt the U. F. A. in any way, but to heal up some of the things that will otherwise take a long time to heal.

I am yours for democracy and equal rights to all, and special privileges to none,
A. Burbidge.

MACLEOD U. F. A. CO-OPERATIVE STORE

To the Editor,
Macleod Times:

Dear Sir:—

As the report as published in the issue of the 21st inst. of the meeting of shareholders of the Macleod U. F. A. Co-Operative Association held on April 17th may lead to a wrong impression of the financial situation of the Association being conveyed to the many members not present at this meeting, I should like the privilege of the use of your columns to make a frank statement on its affairs.

Before going into this I wish to explain that this was an adjourned meeting of the shareholders, and that the auditor's report had been fully considered and adopted at the previous meeting, and that this report was only briefly touched upon, and without some probably necessary explanations being made at the meeting of the 17th inst.

This report, while not so satisfactory as we would wish to see, but under present conditions was much more so than we had reason to expect, particularly as a great effort has been made during the past year to dispose of surplus stock, some of which was sacrificed at a loss. Also a greatly improved showing would have been made if the value of improvements undertaken on the building last spring had been included in the assets. These were paid for out of current receipts and charged to expense account, but through an oversight no provision was made to offset this in the valuation of assets. Regarding the the Great West Saddlery Co., as stated in your report, this was first broached by Mr. Hutchins, vice-president of the company, but to infer that this is a life-line thrown providentially out to save the Association from certain disaster is a totally incorrect view of the situation. We believe we are still master of our fate, and at no time, with or without amalgamation, have the board of trustees ever considered the possibility of having to close up the business. As a matter of fact the liabilities of the Association are lower at the present time than at almost any time since commencing business. Debts to the wholesalers have been reduced to a minimum. The only liability causing any uneasiness is a loan, partly secured by collateral notes given on unpaid share capital, and guaranteed by the trustees and other members of the Association, secured at the commencement of operations, and which will, as has been pointed out at every shareholders' meeting, eventually have to be replaced by new share capital. The trustees have no doubt that this would have been the case last fall had it not been for the complete crop failure. This loan should have been repaid last fall, but like many similar cases, the financial conditions prevented this. It will be easily understood that in the event of an immediate call being made for repayment it might prove embarrassing and cause a considerable loss, but should not, in my opinion, prove irreparable. Should the usual procedure be followed by our creditors and this be allowed to run until after harvest, of which, as yet, we have no assurance, and which is the only cause for worry, then, granted an average crop, this will easily be taken care of. Our position in this respect is no different than that of some other businesses in the dry area, no doubt as well as of a great many farmers. Past experience has proved that any losses incurred in the operations of the past season will be quickly made up once trade conditions return to normal.

The question of amalgamation has been, and will be, considered solely from the standpoint of the best interests of the membership. The main factors favoring this are the securing of more suitable business premises, increase of capital, increased financial prestige from the connection with the Great West Saddlery Co., as well as benefitting by the business connection and experience of that company. The proposition as put forward by Mr. Hutchins appears eminently fair, and the key principles of the co-operative movement is retained by the limitation of dividends on share capital, and provision being made for the payment of patronage dividends when conditions warrant. That this is the case is supported by the fact that this clause is the sole test for eligibility for membership in the Alberta Co-Operative Union. The main reason for any hesitation in proceeding with this project is, as pointed out at the meeting, that to make the change at this time under present conditions, necessitating the cleaning up of the liabilities of the Co-Operative Association, may result in some loss, and the consequent possible lowering of share values below par; but there is this to be considered—that a slight present loss may prove future gain. However, this phase of the question we intend to go into thoroughly with Mr. Hutchins at our next meeting, with the hope of being able to devise some method whereby this will wholly or largely be avoided. It is the opinion of the trustees that the proposed amalgamation should result in an increased service to the farming community from any standpoint, as it is equally the intention of both interests concerned to make this company a benefit to farmer shareholders.

In conclusion I should like to say to the members that after being for three years in close touch with the affairs of the association that I am as firmly convinced as ever, that given adequate support in capital and patronage, under normal conditions, it will not only return a fair interest on money invested, but also regulate the cost of many articles that are needed in farm production. The greatest deterrent to success is a lack of faith on the part of farmers in the enterprise and a consequent unwillingness to subscribe the necessary capital to insure success. If every one were willing to do their share, little would be required from each. These remarks apply equally with regard to the proposed new company, as to the old U. F. A. Association. The larger the amount of capital that can be commanded, the greater will be the service rendered in return. If each and everyone will boost instead of knock, be a pusher rather than act the part of a break on the wheel, with or without the proposed amalgamation, we have no reason to fear for future success.

Apologizing for the amount of space taken, necessitated by the previous report.

Yours truly,

W. H. SHIELD, Pres.

W. O. HOODLESSSenators View Great C.P.R. Works

The Hon. Smeaton White was the host of an interesting party to the C.P.R. Angus Shops at Montreal recently. In the party were Hon. Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor; Hon. Hewitt Bostock, leader of the Opposition in the Senate; and Senators Willoughby, Turriff, Schaffner, Fowler, Bennett, Murphy, Fisher, Blain, McMeans, Watson and Proudfoot, and Major John Bassett and Mr. Arthur Glines. The object of the visit was to further acquaint the Senators with the great industrial development in the Province of Quebec. They were met at the shops by the officials in charge of these great works.

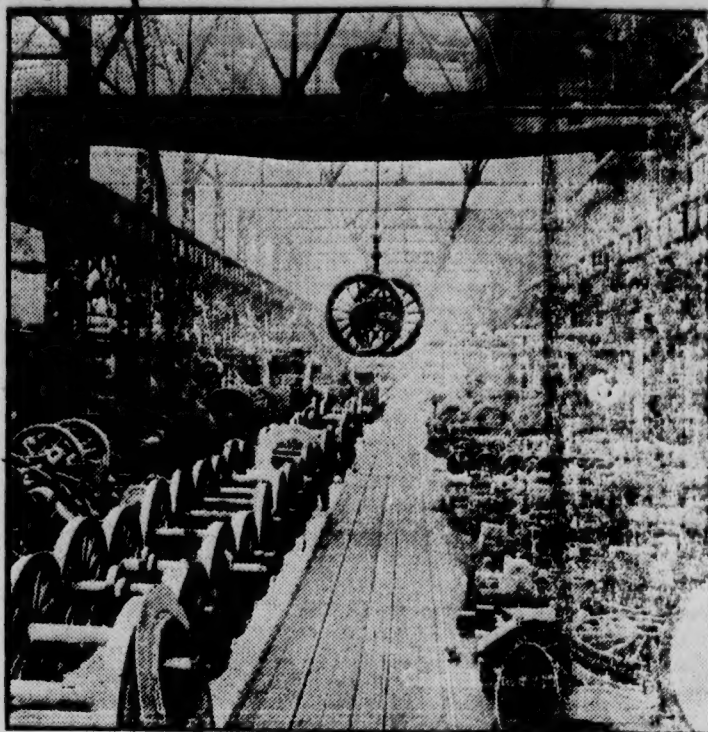

The party were escorted through the works, spending over two hours to inspect only a portion of this great plant. First they visited the immense locomotive works and the organization and details were explained. Then they saw the salvage plant that turns what was formerly wasted and lost material into a valuable asset. They also inspected the passenger and freight car works, the offices, ambulance and dining halls. It was a splendid education in Canadian industrial development, and the Senators expressed their astonishment at the size of the works and their efficient organization. They all agreed that our legislators should seize every opportunity to familiarize themselves with Canada's industrial life.

The party was present when the great works closed for noon and it was a wonderful sight to see the thousands of employees streaming out of the works. Some conception of the immensity of this enterprise can be grasped from the statistics furnished. The area of the works is 100 acres, and number of employees 9,200 with an annual pay-roll of $12,780,000. As distinctive railway shops the Angus Works are the largest in North America, in fact, in the world. Wonderful Efficiency.

Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, was deeply interested. He said of the visit: "It is eleven years since I have been here and the development is simply amazing. I am glad I came. I had no appreciation of the immensity of the enterprise. What most impressed me was the wonderful efficiency of the employees. I never saw an idle man and I believe each was striving to give a fair day's work. I am glad the relationship between the company and its employees is of such a cordial character."

Hon. Hewitt Bostock also was deeply interested and appreciative of this industrial development and said: "One thinks of the Canadian Pacific Railway as a great transportation company with representatives in all the important centres of the world, but cannot realize until they visit the Angus shops, the amount of co-ordination and management required to keep the rolling stock, and the system generally, up to date and in an efficient state of repair. Whilst these shops are the principal shops of the railway there are by no means the only shops where repairs are made. On entering the locomotive building the first thing to attract the attention of the party was the big crane of 60 tons transporting the completed boiler of an engine to its place, to be placed into the boggy carriage. We realized that every effort had been made to install the latest machines for handling the material quickly and economically. The cutting of the metal is done by acetylene gas jets, the welding by electricity. All through the shops the machines are worked by compressed air wherever feasible, and the noise in the locomotive shop is deafening. Salvage System.

"One of the most noticeable things is the way in which the scrap is worked up into something useful. In one case the wheel of the head brake of a freight car was being made up as the wheel of a wheelbarrow. Old pipes made into the framework of farm gates, showing the close and careful management which looks into every detail and which has been successful in finding places not only for the returned men who worked in the shops before serving at the front, but for many others who had not worked for the company before, the policy of the management being to give a preference to the returned soldier.

"At the commencement of the war some of the shops were given up to making ammunition and were the first to turn out brass shell cases for the Imperial Munitions Board, a number of women being employed for this work, but as soon as it was possible to get the supply of ammunition elsewhere the transfer to repair work was made as quickly as possible, as large arrears of work had to be overtaken.

"The whole tone of the shops and the way that the work was being carried on bespoke a good understanding and co-operation between the men and the management. One would go a long way before seeing a more active body of men than those who came off work at noon, largely due, no doubt, to the provision of ample athletic grounds and good ventilation throughout the works."

Elimination of Waste.

Senator George Fowler, of New Brunswick, said:

"Personally, I had no idea of the magnitude of the shops nor of their perfection from the industrial standpoint. The pride which I, as an intense Canadian, have always taken in having in our country the greatest transportation system in the world was considerably increased when this visit convinced me that its organization was almost as near perfection as the inherent shortcomings of frail humanity can reach. The most modern machinery, the most expert mechanics, with superb organization can accomplish wonders, a statement proved by the work performed at the Angus Shops. We saw under the same roof the repairs to an insignificant car hinge, and the building of a magnificent engine such as Stephenson in his greatest visions never dreamed of, an engine weighing one hundred and seventy-five tons and capable of hauling a train of loaded cars over a mile in length. So perfectly has the automobile principle been developed in many of the machines in the works that they almost seem to be sentient things and capable of the expression of more intelligent thought than that sometimes exhibited by even a judge upon the bench.

"Another feature that struck me was the almost perfect elimination of waste. The C.P.R. management is extremely strict in saving the old engine that, apparently, is a penny earned. For nothing of the least value is allowed to be wasted. The shareholders of the great Canadian railway may rest content that their money is in safe hands and that if the present reasonable return upon their investment is not obtained in the future it will not be through any fault of the present management.

"You cannot, however, perfect your machinery, fail to reckon with the human element and in that regard what most struck my imagination was the splendid spirit of co-operation by all officials of whatever grade towards the company. With such a spirit emanating from such a magnificent organization, and with the driving force powered by the young and vigorous president, the continued progress of the company is assured and the glories of its past will be far outshone by the magnificent triumph of the future."

Impressed by Employees.

Senator W. H. Bennett, Ontario, was astonished at the great industry built up, and said:

"The visit of the party was most interesting and profitable. That the company was building such magnificent locomotives was the most impressive recollection of the trip, while in quite another direction the evidences of thoroughness and business acumen, in economic management, were manifest in the utilization of what would be considered as scrap by converting the same into useful parts for new work. The employment of the great force of 9,000 men, at the Angus Shops, was an evidence of the most striking kind of the part played by the company, not only in the transportation interests of Canada, but in its industrial life. The party are under a deep obligation for Senator White's kindness in giving them the trip."

Senator Turriff, Saskatchewan, said: "I thought I had some conception of the C.P.R. efficiency and magnitude, but no one can properly understand it until he sees these works. What impressed me was the fine appearance of the employees. I never saw a more intelligent body of men."

Senator John Fisher was equally appreciative. He was much impressed with the salvage department. "I now know," he said, "why the C.P.R. is a success. There is no waste on the system."

Mr. W. P. Washburn, representing President Beatty, met the party at the works and on their return to the Windsor Street Station Mr. Grant Hall conveyed to the party the appreciation of the company for their visit.

MacLeod C.G.I.T

There were a large number of the "teen" age girls of the town at the meeting at the Presbyterian Church of Sunday afternoon last, called to organize a group of the Canadian Girls in Training known throughout Canada as the C. G. I. T. As the membership of each group is limited to twenty members only one group could be organized, but it is hoped that other leaders can be found so that all the girls can be organized later.

The group formed on Sunday afternoon consists of Miss S. Kidd, leader; Thelma Hicks, President; Alice Atkins, Vice-President; Wilma Swinerton, Secretary; Annie Davis, Treasurer; and Velma Kirk and Edith Thewlis, Counsellors. The girls will meet in the hall of the Methodist Church on Thursday evenings at 7.30.

It is a Novel Screen FeatureLYTELL IN "LOMBARDI"

"As its special feature attraction the Empress Theatre will present "Lombardi, Limited," the Screen Classics Inc., super-production, with Bert Lytell as the star, for a run of two days, beginning on Tuesday next. "Lombardi, Limited," is variously described as a fashionable show, a girl show, and a highly diverting comedy-drama of the screen, with the star in the unusual and interesting role of a male modiste.

Frederic and Fanny Hatton, most gifted of American collaborators, were responsible for the original stage play of "Lombardi, Ltd.," from which the photoplay was made. On the stage it was presented by Oliver Morosco, and ran for a season in New York, and more than a year on the road.

Most of the action transpires in the swagger Fifth Avenue dress-making establishment of Tito Lombardi, an eccentric Italian genius, whose artistic tendencies exceed his business acumen, and who finds himself in dire straits and facing bankruptcy because his faith in human nature has made him too "easy" with defrauding customers.

Alice Lake, Junanita Hansen

and Vera Lewis have leading feminine roles in the production. Other beautiful young women in the cast are Thea Talbot, Ann May, Jean Acker, Virginia Caldwell, Golda Madden and Patricia Hannan, the last three being given models of the "perfect 36" variety. Joseph Kilgour, George McDaniel and John Stepping have the remaining supporting parts in the male contingent.

June Mathis adapted the Hatton's play to the screen. Jack Conway directed the production which was made under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger, Screen Classics, Inc., Director General. The art interiors were designed and executed by M. P. Staloup, special technical director for the production.

Oldest Dentist Passes Away

Dr. Charles A. Martin, Ottawa's pioneer dentist, passed away April 6th, in his eighty-second year. He had been in failing health for some time but his decease came quite unexpectedly.

The late Dr. Martin had practised his profession in Ottawa for fifty-three years, having come from Montreal, where he was born in 1838. He was an examiner on the Royal College of Dental Surgeons for over ten years, and in this capacity had many students under his jurisdiction who have since become widely known in various parts of the Dominion, Dr. Bruce being one of these. Dr. Martin has contributed many useful works on dentistry, and his loss will be distinctly felt by those of the profession. He was the last of five brothers who were all widely known as dental surgeons. He is survived by four sons, Charles, Fred, Harry and Herbert Martin of Ottawa; and three daughters: Mrs. W. H. Cox, Spring Point, Alta.; Mrs. T. J. Lynton and Miss Melita Martin, of Ottawa.

Your Best Friend

(Contributed)

Sunday, May 9th, is Mothers' Day.

All over the continent of America sons and daughters will meet in the churches to pay a tribute to the best friend they ever had. A friend that no evil report could shake her confidence in you; there was no evidence strong enough to convince her that you were bad. No matter how far you neglected her, brought shame upon her, she never forgot you. When everybody else turned against you she was loyal to you. The only unkind thing she ever did to you was when she kissed you good-bye and whispered "I am leaving you," as her spirit left this world.

If you could ask her where she would like best for you to spend Sunday almost certainly she would say at church.

Christ Church

A parish meeting & social evening will be held in the Parish Hall on Friday May 7th at 8 p.m. for the purpose of electing a people's warden and of meeting Dr. T. R. R. CHRIST CHURCH

Parishoners and friends of Christ Church are reminded of the meeting which is to be held Friday evening in the Parish Hall, to meet Dr. Westgate, and for the purpose of electing a people's warden. The dance which was announced has been postponed to a later date.

ENGLISH POT ROAST

REQUISITES:—1 No. 1 Pot Roast, purchased at any of our markets, 1 oz. Burns' Shamrock Lard or 1 oz. Burns' Refined Beef Dripping, 1 Carrot sliced, 1 Onion sliced.

RECIPE:—Use a regular braising pan, and when the lard or dripping is well heated place the pot roast in the pan and leave until thoroughly browned; add one sliced carrot and one sliced onion. The addition of peppers or bay leaf lends a very pleasing flavor. When thoroughly braised, stir in two tablespoonsful of flour and add 1½ pints boiling water, and let simmer for 1½ hours, when it is ready to serve.

Gardening For City Schools

Gardening is systematically carried on by the public schools of many Canadian cities as a part of the educational course. Dr. J. H. Putnam, Senior Instructor in the March number of the Agricultural Gazette published by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, describes the system under which this work is done in the Capital city. The school garden is referred to as a big class room for outdoor instruction in plants and plant life. It has many of the possibilities in miniature of an experimental farm. It has to do with the composition and fertility of soils, with drainage, with seed germination and with insect enemies of plant life. It shows in a way that cannot be questioned the effect upon plants of too much or too little sunshine or moisture and the bad effects of weeds and the necessity of giving a plant plenty of room if we wish to secure a high state of development. Dr. Putnam points out that these things would mean nothing to city children if recited from books or told by teachers. These things taught through a garden where the children prepare the soil, sow the seeds, and care for the plants, cannot be without good results.

In addition to a central garden of one acre, the Ottawa plan involves the organization of home garden clubs, each representing a school. In the three years 1917-18 and 19 about one thousand pupils from second and third book classes received gardening instructions. The school board paid forty dollars to each teacher who managed a club garden. Every pupil member was required to keep an accurate record of planting, cultivating and other activities. The aim is to grow everything possible from seed. Cold frames are found to be a valuable addition to the equipment. In the central garden instead of giving pupils very small individual plots, a plot 22x43 feet for vegetables and 16x20 feet for flowers is given to each class. This garden is having a permanent perennial border established which will give a succession of blooms as well as an opportunity to show the children what they may have in their own home gardens.

THE ROBBERY

The cash I spent on the dear hay
Is as a pearl of price to me—
I count my dwindling pile each day—
The Robbery! The Robbery!

Each straw a feed; each feed a prayer
To fill a cow with hunger wrung,
I count each straw until the end
And there the baling wire is hung.

O! Old cows' hides that freeze and turn;
O! Barren gain, and bitter day.
I kiss each cow good-bye and strive at last to learn
To kiss the man who stuck me with the hay.

from the Old Country last week of the death of his father, John Pollard, who died at the age of eighty-five years, at Banbury, Oxfordshire.Owing to the stormy weather and the condition of the roads there was no meeting of the U. F. A. on Saturday, and consequently the discussion of the resolution submitted by W.
G. Glass has been postponed.In spite of the stormy weather the Primrose Tea and Sale held by the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church in the Town Hall on Saturday, was well patronized, and the ladies were well pleased with the results.In our issue of last week we referred to Mrs. R. Smith, of Cosmopolis, Cal., who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. Kyle, as being Mrs. Kyle's mother. We find our information was incorrect—Mrs. Smith is Mr. Kyle's sister.The many friends of D. J.
Campbell will regret to learn of his continued illness. Mr. Campbell has been confined to his bed now for upwards of three weeks, and there seems to be very little improvement in his condition.The past few days have been nice and warm, and seeding has become general all around Macleod. In some places the land is still wet and heavy, but the farmers generally expect to be busy with the drill before the end of the week.A thunder storm passed over Macleod on Tuesday afternoon,
a very unusual thing for April.
Many farmers were in town and were caught on their way home.
At Nanton the lightning blew out several fuses on the long distance line at the telephone office.Commenting on the weather
of last week Mr. R. T. Barker says that his records of the spring of last year show that the first three days of May were one continual blizzard and for the three preceding days it had rained steadily—yet this weather is the worst ever.Mayor Fawcett and Coun-

of the Screen*AND THE POWER OF THE PRESS - WHY MILLIONS LAUGHThe power of the screen as compared with the "power of the press" is aptly defined in an editorial appearing recently in the Brockton (Mass.) Enterprise, entitled "The Screen and the Printed Page." Taking as its subject the Literary Digest
"Topics of the Day," the popular short reel feature produced by Timely Films Inc., and distributed through Pathe, the Enterprise gives a clear definition of the psychology of the average person when looking at a motion picture and when reading a newspaper. The force with which a subject is carried across on the screen is much more powerful than any printed story could be. The Enterprise says:"Do people chuckle or laugh out loud when they read some quib in the newspaper that appeals to their sense of humor or enjoyment of sarcasm? Or is it only when the witticism is spoken or thrown on the screen that the average man or woman responds with an outward expression of appreciation? We have watched people aboard trains
looking over humorous weeklies
and the work of the famous cartoonists with stolid expression on their faces and not even the glimmer of a grin. Possibly they were bubbling over with merriment internally, but if so,
they effectively camouflaged
their glee."These thoughts are supplementary to a visit to a movie-picture house where "Topics of the Day," brief and meaty paragraphs from the current press, are produced on the screen as part of the bill. The outspoken, so to speak, way in which the audience rose to the jocular bait would have been a balm of Gilead to the penners of those paragraphs could they have been there. It is the fate of the newspaper scribbler to blow his airy fancies like feathers in the air, to float away upon the wind and land—he knows not where."Up to now the best he could hope for the child of his brain is that it would be quoted with credit by some scissorer, or a contemporary, or be quoted without credit as part of the patter of a vaudevillian. Now, if he plays in luck, or has a pull
with the screen version editor, he is liable to drop into some movie house for an hour, see his quib started with other film fun and glow with the consciousness that there are actually fellow-beings that find his fancies funny and laugh over them right out in company."(From the Baltimore Sun.)
